Identity & Access Management at UCLA (IAMUCLA)

News

- Beginning February 15, 2012, UCLA IT Staff will be able to access Burton IT1 research content at Gartner using UCLA Logon ID. Review Gartner Access Q&A for details.
- Beginning January 31, 2010, you will see a new sign-in page before accessing UCLA web applications and services. The only change you will notice is the page's new look and feel. Your valid UCLA Logon ID and password will... click here to read more
- What do I need to do to prepare for the migration from signing into my favorite web application using OASIS/QDB Logon ID to UCLA Logon ID? click here to read more
- Which administrative application will require a UCLA Logon ID? click here to read more

IAMUCLA
- What is IAMUCLA
- Glossary
- IAMUCLA Newsletter
- Support Schedule
- KnowledgeBase

New UCLA Sign-In Page
- Sign In-Page Overview
- Help Desk Guide to Common Errors
- Transition to UCLA Logon ID FAQ
- Web Single Sign-On FAQs

For IT Staff
- Sign-in required. Make sure to sign-in first before clicking on any of the links below.
  - Migration Help Center
  - Setting Up Shibboleth
  - Grouper
  - DACSS